Crémant de Thieuley - fizz from Bordeaux

Crémant de Thieuley - fizz from Bordeaux

Bordeaux is not best known for its fizz, but Crémant de Bordeaux, made by the traditional method, is A Thing.

This Crémant de Thieuley is made from a blend of Bordeaux grapes Semillon and Cab Franc and is aged for 18 months on its lees.

Crémant de Thieuley Brut, NV orchard and white stone fruit with leesiness, minerality and citrus freshness; elegant with a fine mousse.

Will develop further with age.

Good.

Drink as an aperitif, as a Champagne-alternative or match with light seafood starters.

Available during the festive period at Mitchells & Butlers outlets.

Win A Bottle of Fizz For Valentine's

Win a bottle of fizz from Chateau Thieuley for Valentine's

I recently reviewed a bottle of Crémant de Thieuley from Bordeaux - and rather enjoyed it.

Made in same traditional method as Champagne, it uses local Bordeaux grapes; the end result is a fresh, elegant fizz with mineral complexity.

The wine is usually available only over Christmas, but the owners of Chateau Thieuley have offered a bottle in time for Valentine's day to one lucky (UK-based) winner of my competition.

The rules are very simple - just add a comment to this article using disqus explaining why a bottle of this Crémant de Bordeaux would make your Valentine's day extra special.

Closing date for entries is January 31st 2017 in order to ensure the wine arrives in plenty of time for the big day.

Entries will be judged by the winery owners Marie and Sylvie Courselle, so it is these two lovely ladies that you need to impress:

Now, what are you waiting for?
